International Dialogue on Migration (IDM) 2016
Assessing progress in the implementation of the migration-related SDGs

Second Intersessional Workshop, 11 - 12 October 2016
Conference room XVII, Palais des Nations, Geneva

Final agenda

Day 1 – 11 October 2016

9:00 – 09:30  Registration

OPENING OF THE SESSION

09:30 – 10:00  Opening remarks

- William Lacy Swing, Director General, IOM (Opening remarks)
- Jill Helke, Director, Department of International Cooperation and Partnerships, IOM (Setting the scene)
- Kathleen Newland, Senior Fellow and Co-Founder, Migration Policy Institute (Reporting on the 1st workshop)

10:00 – 11:40  Session 1: Migration in the SDGs – Where do we start and where should we go?

This session will be an opportunity for participants to discuss the current state of migration policy, the baselines from which countries will gauge progress during the next 14 years leading up to 2030, and how best to make progress on all migration-related targets of the SDGs.

The following questions could guide the discussion:

- What is the current state of migration?
- What do we know about labour migration, remittances, inclusive urbanization, migrants’ access to health and migrants’ inclusion in disaster risk reduction planning?
- Based on what we know, what should be done over the next 14 years to achieve the migration-related targets? What are the foreseeable challenges in achieving these targets?
- How can we assess progress on the achievement of the migration-related targets?

* Participants are informed that a video recording will be made of the workshop proceedings.
Moderator: William Lacy Swing, Director General, IOM
Speakers:
- Isata Kabia, Minister of State II, Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation, Sierra Leone
- André Vallini, Minister of State for Development and Francophonie, attached to the Minister of Foreign Affairs and International Development, France
- Stefano Manservisi, Director General, Directorate-General for International Cooperation and Development (DG DEVCO), European Commission

- Mahmoud Mohieldin, Senior Vice President for the 2030 Development Agenda, United Nations Relations, and Partnerships, the World Bank Group

11:40 – 12:30 Migrant’s Voices: Seeing the SDGs through the eyes of those left behind

Migrants and their communities are central to the SDG implementation process. Their role needs to be acknowledged. This session will present the views of individual migrants and diaspora organizations, enable discussion on the migration aspects of the SDGs from their perspective, and reinforce the importance of their role in supporting implementation.

The following questions could guide the discussion:
- How can migrant and diaspora community involvement in the implementation of migration-related targets be optimized?
- What measures are needed to ensure that the implementation process considers the voices of all those concerned?

Presented by: Azzouz Samri, Head of Governing Bodies Division, IOM
Speakers:
- Salome Mbuga Henry, Honorary President of the National Network of Migrant Women in Ireland (AKIDWA), Head of Mission and Co-founder of Wezesha” - the African diaspora-led development Organisation, Ireland
- Egide Dhala, Co-founder of “Wezesha”, Outreach Coordinator, IOM Ireland

12:30 – 15:00 Break

13:15 – 14:45 Side event “Intrastate cooperation for the implementation of the SDGs related to migration”

15:00 – 18:00 Session 2: Reviewing progress on the migration-related targets: identifying gaps and promoting responses

15:00 – 16:30 Panel 1: Country reporting

Target 10.7 of the SDGs calls for countries to “facilitate orderly, safe, regular and responsible migration and mobility of people, including through the implementation of planned and well-managed migration policies.”
Migration is present in other targets, including those concerning education (Goal 4), gender equality (Goal 5), employment and decent work (Goal 8), reducing inequality (Goal 10), climate change and its impacts (Goal 13), peaceful and inclusive societies (Goal 16), combatting human trafficking (targets 5.2, 8.7 and 16.2) and global partnerships (Goal 17). This session will provide an opportunity for States to highlight challenges and report on progress achieved in the implementation of the migration-related targets.

The following questions could guide the discussion:

- What best practices can be identified in relation to achieving the migration-related targets?
- Are there any gaps in the SDG implementation process? If so, how can they be bridged?
- How can migration be promoted and prioritized in national development strategies?

Moderator: Sönke Lorenz, Head of Unit, Migration Issues, Federal Foreign Office, Germany

Speakers:

- El Habib Nadir, Secretary General of the Ministry in charge of Moroccans Living Abroad and Migration Affairs, Morocco
- Sara Gabriela Luna Camacho, Deputy Director General, Directorate General of Human Rights and Democracy, Mexico
- Maria Theresa T. Almojuela, Deputy Permanent Representative, Philippine Permanent Mission to the UN and Other International Organizations in Geneva

16:30 – 18:00 Panel 2: Capacity-building for achieving the migration-related targets

Not all States have the same capacity to achieve the migration-related targets and report on progress towards their implementation. Much needs to be done to build the capacity of countries to report on the migration-related targets. This is especially true with regard to collecting and analysing migration-related data and enhancing countries’ understanding of the implications of migration being included in the SDGs. This panel will identify the areas in which more work needs to be done and recommend solutions to strengthen institutional capacity.

The following questions could guide the discussion:

- What primary challenges concerning institutional capacity could hinder progress in the implementation of the migration-related targets and what solutions can be proposed?
- How can cooperation be fostered between States with strong institutions and those with weaker institutional capacity?
- How can institutional capacity to report on the migration-related targets be built? For instance, how can data collection processes be improved?

Moderator: Nikhil Seth, United Nations Assistant Secretary-General, Executive Director, UNITAR

Speakers:

- Abdramane Sylla, Minister of Malians Abroad, Mali
- Catarina Marcelino, Secretary of State for Citizenship and Equality, Portugal

The implementation of the SDGs will require the engagement of a number of actors representing various structures and sectors. Therefore, there is a need for synergies and well-coordinated national and international cooperation to achieve the desired results. This session will examine partnerships between relevant actors at all levels to support implementation of the SDGs. It will highlight the importance of engaging all levels of governance, civil society and the private sector. It will seek to identify emerging partnerships and potential collaboration with non-traditional partners.

The following questions could guide the discussion:
- Which existing partnerships support the implementation of the migration-related targets at the national, regional and global levels?
- How can all levels of governance be engaged in the process of developing such partnerships?
- What is civil society’s role in the implementation of the migration-related targets?
- How can the private sector be more involved in the implementation process?
- Which non-traditional actors are potential partners to support the implementation process?
- Which emerging and potential partnerships should be considered?

Moderator: Laura Thompson, Deputy Director General, IOM

<td></td>
<td>Taking place a year after the adoption of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, this session will invite national and international actors to discuss and assess the implementation process of the migration-related targets, while noting challenges and opportunities for improvement. More specifically, the session will examine a new generation of tools (such as the United Nations Development Assistance Frameworks and poverty reduction strategies) required for effective implementation processes, building upon the lessons learned while implementing the Millennium Development Goals. These tools will address how best to support national efforts to implement the 2030 Agenda.</td>
