MIGRATION RESEARCH SERIES

New CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

IOM is pleased to share a new call for abstracts for its Migration Research Series on:

★ the links between migration and technology addressing, for instance, issues related to the use of ICT during migration journeys, the use of applications and social media throughout the migration cycle and in public debates, the implications for migration of artificial intelligence, and the use of new and emerging technologies to support digital identities.

Submission criteria and process

Please make sure your abstract:

✓ Features rigorous, balanced and policy-relevant research; empirical research desirable (see guidance note for authors)

✓ Respects the word-limit of 400 words (one page maximum)

✓ Is submitted by 31 March 2019 by email to research@iom.int referring to 'MRS abstract submission' in the subject line

IOM will endeavour to shortlist abstracts within one month after the deadline. Authors of selected abstracts will be invited to submit a full paper of 4,000 words maximum within an approximate 2/3-month timeframe. Papers will then be peer reviewed to ensure quality.

Why publish with IOM?

★ Benefit from IOM's high visibility and wide reach to inform migration research and policies: IOM publications totaled 2,794,104 downloads in 2017!

★ Get high quality publications peer reviewed by some of the most respected academic and applied research experts in the field

★ Follow the path of the world's best researchers on migration who actively collaborate with IOM through publications as well as via the Migration Research Leaders' Syndicate supporting the Global Compact on Migration and IOM's Migration Advisory Board

About the Migration Research Series

The Migration Research Series focuses on policy-oriented and empirical research and analysis with the aim to contribute to a better understanding of the multidimensional aspects of migration and inform migration policies at the national, regional and international levels. All publications are freely available online in IOM Online Bookstore, thereby ensuring a wide reach and impact among policymakers, as well as practitioners, scholars, researchers and students interested in issues related to migration.
