Regional Migrant Figures Update

In 2016 (as of 5 October) 142,725 arrivals were recorded by sea to Italy through the Central Mediterranean route, whereby 95 migrants were recorded between 25 September and 2 October, a –93% decrease from the week before when 1,454 were reported. The main countries of origin are Nigeria, Eritrea and Guinea.

On the same route, as of 6 October, 3,134 deaths were recorded in 2016, 79 so far in the month of October. The number of fatalities in 2016 remains higher than the same period last year (2,785 deaths were recorded along the Central Mediterranean route between January and October 2015).

The migrants continue making the perilous journey at great risk, travelling under precarious conditions and on ill-equipped boats, leaving them highly vulnerable to both arduous travel and exploitation of organized criminal networks along the way.

IOM Libya installs medical clinics at disembarkation points

IOM Libya, in coordination with the Libyan Coast Guard and the Libyan Port Security, has installed three furnished and equipped medical clinics at the main disembarkation points in Tripoli, Garaboli and Zliten.

The instalment, which is part of the project “Direct assistance to migrants rescued at sea and tracking displaced populations inside Libya,” funded by UK’s Department for International Development (DFID), is the first in a series of steps that aim to support the Libyan authorities and civil society organizations engaged in receiving migrants, refugees and asylum seekers being disembarked by the Libyan authorities in response to actual or perceived distress at sea situations.

The equipped medical clinics will be able to immediately assist the migrants rescued at sea who often suffer from for example dehydration and are in a dire need of medical assistance. With poorly equipped and unseaworthy boats overloaded with migrants and refugees attempting to leave the Libyan coast, including women and children, the Libyan Coast Guards’ resources are overstretched and insufficient to respond to the scale of attempted departures and of distress incidents.

Distribution

Between 23 September – 6 October, non-food items and hygiene kits were distributed, with the support of IOM Libya’s implementing partners STACO, Ayadi Al Khair and Multakana to a total of 1,651 vulnerable migrants across Libya. - On 26 September to 200 migrants outside detention centre in Tajourah
